Council Wants to Borrow Money—Mayor Says No

Partney Orders Layoffs For 10 Full-time and 17 Part-time Employees

(Related story, page 29)

By cutting purchases in half and by issuing tax anticipation warrants, Granite City council members expressed hope Monday night to prevent temporary layoffs of 27 full-time and part-time city employees that Mayor Partney said he would order Feb. 1.

Only one "if" was mentioned by the mayor as a possible way to halt the action—"If we have sufficient funds in the general fund to operate the city, then the layoffs would not be necessary for the six-month period," he stated.

With city funds at the lowest ebb in over 25 years, the only possible solution to the city's problem would be the $300,000 promised by the federal government under the disaster program to refund the city for damages to sewers and other city properties during last summer's torrential rains and flooding.

New Taxes—July 15
Partney said he was expecting the initial allocation of $80,000 within two weeks, but that he had included the amount in his study of city finances to cover operations until July 15, when new tax money is expected.

A majority of the 11 aldermen, who were in attendance for the special session on finances, indicated they favored going to the banks and borrowing the money at 5% or 6% interest. A motion was approved unanimously.

City Treasurer E. R. Partney said he would determine as near as possible the amount needed to cover the city for the remainder of the fiscal year which ends April 30.

Mayor Partney advised the council several times during the special session that he would not approve borrowing money and later told the council he would veto any resolution for issuance of tax anticipation warrants.

Six-Month Layoffs
Outlining his program to the council, Mayor Partney said the six-month layoffs would be for three firemen (reducing the staff at the Nameki road station from two to one); two police officers (reducing the staff at the station open from three to one); a city inspector; a bookkeeper in the treasurer's office; the secretary in the inspection office and a city hall clerk who counts parking meter money.

Part-time employees who would be given six-month layoffs would be the assistant city attorney, the assistant school crossing guard, the technical secretary for the police board and a secretary in the civil defense office.

Three street department employees would be transferred to the sewage treatment plant, along with the city painter, to create a sewage department. The mayor explained their salaries could be paid for the period from the surplus in the treatment plant construction fund.

The painter, he added, could be assigned to the long-needed work of painting the interior of sewer lift stations.

Women at Police Desk
In addition, the mayor's program calls for reducing the work week of two city hall custodians to three days, shutting down the city hall switchboard and installing private phones in each office. The switchboard operator would be assigned to

Partney Presents 'Layoff' Proposal To GC Council

Mayor Partney, who called the city council to a special session to review the city's dire financial condition, opened the meeting by reading a letter to the council outlining his proposal for layoffs, transfers and work-week reductions involving full-time and part-time city employees.

The text of that letter follows:

"With reference to my letter dated Oct. 6, 1969, to the city council, outlining the financial position of the city and several approaches that could have been taken at that time, I am hoping that the council would come up with some suggestions to the city council to help it out of its financial predicament. It was confident, at that time, that if we all approached the matter in an honest, intelligent, businesslike manner and with an open mind, that together we could achieve a solution that would be helpful to all concerned.

"You will also note in the meeting of Jan. 5, 1970, that Mr. Pat Rich, our city treasurer, informed the council of our financial position without any action being taken. As mayor of this city, I am charged by the statutes of the state of Illinois and by the ordinance of this city to be the chief executive officer of the city, and it is my responsibility to check the records and books pertaining to all city affairs and departments and to institute corrective action whenever I feel it is required.

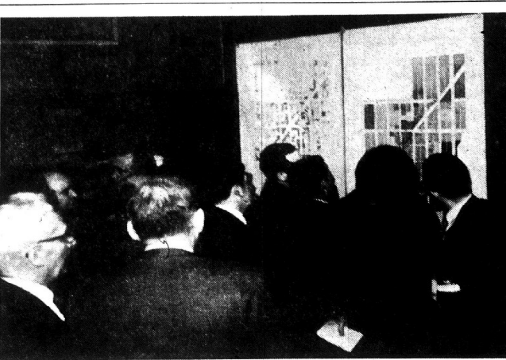

"So, therefore, due to the financial crisis of our city, I will be a temporary layoff of the following employees beginning Feb. 1, 1970, through July 15, 1970:

Layoffs, Transfers
Two janitors cut to three days per week; and by inspection, one assistant city attorney, one bookkeeper in treasurer's office, one painter, one assistant city clerk, one school crossing guard.

Three firemen, three street department employees, and a city hall clerk will be transferred to the sewage treatment plant, along with the city painter, to create a sewage department.

Department secretary shall be reduced to three days per week. Employees must be reinstated according to seniority, if they are available.

Confidential Phone Plan Proving Highly Successful

Initial response to a confidential telephone service for narcotics addicts and information about drug abuse is available on a "strictly confidential basis" by calling Mrs. Douglass at 2383 and asking for Mrs. Douglass.

We are here to help, not prosecute, an ex-drug addict connected with the new telephone service said today. "All you have to do is call and we will help you."

Announced for the first time in Monday's Press-Record, the first phone call came the same afternoon at 4:20-4:30, a succession of calls was received Tuesday, with close to 20 inquiries and places for assistance noted by mid-afternoon Wednesday.

"Our primary problem is to gain the confidence of the person calling," a spokesman said. "Most callers were afraid of the police, and we were not interested in their conversation recorded. Absolutely not," it was emphatically stated.

Unless a caller wishes a record kept for reasons he may choose to divulge, no name is required to identify himself, or any other information. Special arrangements can be made for individuals who seek counseling or personal contact, without fear of publicity or notoriety.

We have been asked a great many questions, mostly concerning the telephone service. Many apparent users are feeling very good about it, and we are pleased to hear what we say," a spokesman said.

One caller, apparently in an "early stage" of addiction, "feeling out of phase" and "not wanting to live," contacted the service. The caller, who was a narcotics addict, available at 576-3831, can talk the drug user's language and provide straight answers, it was learned.

Several parents called to ask questions and later advised information on pushers and users. It was stressed that the service is a "strictly confidential" one.

Break-Ins Also Occur At 4 Other Places; $2000 Loot From Autos

Four burglars broke into four residences in the Quad-Cities area, netting a loot of $650, a diamond ring and a wrist watch.

As the householders pulled into their driveway, one person ran from the front of the house and two others fled from a back porch down the alley. Entry was gained by forcing the rear door with a bar.

$500 House Burglary
Burglars who thoroughly ransacked the home of Edw. Stone, 4428 1/2th lane, made off with a coin collection and U.S. Savings Bonds with a total value of $500. It was reported to police about 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Entry was gained through an unlocked overhead garage door and by prying open the inside doors. The loot was carried away in a pillowcase. The $100 coin collection included silver dollars, Kennedy half dollars and quarters. Also taken were 13 $25 bonds and one $75 bond.

Corbett Wallace, 2214 Nevada avenue, reported at 8:35 p.m. that burglars had broken into his home and stolen a portable electric guitar and case valued at $44, an electric amplifier valued at $60, a portable record player valued at $25 and 10 records valued at $10 from the

Downtown Development Program Launched by Store, Building Owners

2-Block Mall on Niedringhaus, 3-Block Semi-Mall on 19th; Trees, Parking Lots Planned; Through Traffic to Bypass Area

A new and better downtown Granite City was visualized in proposals by planners and comments by businessmen and public officials Tuesday evening at the Rose Bowl restaurant. A plan calling for mall development, store improvements, parking expansion and traffic pattern revisions won enthusiastic support from the gathering of 90. It was decided to immediately form a subcommittee to obtain consent of financial participation from retailers and property owners.

Malcolm Drummond of the Harland Bartholomew & Associates planning firm showed photographic slides of successful shopping district revitalization programs in other communities.

He then outlined the local mall plan, which includes short-range and long-range phases. A fundamental element is the separation of through traffic from the vehicles carrying shoppers to and from the Central Business District (CBD).

Four moving lanes of traffic, two lanes in each direction, are called for on 20th street, Madison avenue and 18th street, with parking lanes eliminated on the former and the latter streets adjacent to the CBD.

Benton street is to handle two southbound lanes and Cleveland blvd. two northbound lanes.

Bypass for Commuters
Those driving to and from work thus could bypass the CBD, greatly alleviating congestion, delay and inconvenience, Drummond said.

A semi-mall is to be the initial project, extending three blocks on 19th street from Cleveland to State street.

Nineteenth is to be rebuilt to provide a serpentine two-lane thoroughfare, occupying 22 feet of the 60-foot right-of-way. This will leave room for wide sidewalks and areas where diagonal parking space can be created. Pedestrian walkways would be built in width from 19th to 20th.

Next, a full mall is to be developed on Niedringhaus avenue for the two blocks between Cleveland and Edison avenue, closing it to vehicular traffic. Present two-way traffic on Delmar avenue is to continue.

A traffic cul-de-sac is to close Edison immediately north of 20th street, with motorists able to make a U-turn at the intersection of Edison from the north to reach the city hall-YMCA area.

New Off-Street Parking
Major new parking lots are to be created, including a large lot on the block between Niedringhaus, Delmar, 20th and Cleveland. Motors are to provide for development and maintenance funds. Civic Park is to remain a park, and other greenery is to be added in the CBD.

Most of the costs are to be met by the merchants and land owners on the affected streets, with other downtown business owners and businessmen also given an opportunity to participate. Estimated expense is $40 to $60 per front foot.

Drummond noted that the downtown area already has become partially separated from the pattern of through traffic. Vehicles in a 24-hour period total 16,000 on Madison avenue at 20th street and 8,000 on 20th but only 350 on 19th street between Delmar and Edison avenues, he said.

Drummond said it is essential that the CBD shopping area have adequate traffic circulation on its perimeter, with access to off-street parking facilities within the district.

Drummond urged inclusion of the plan for diverting commuter traffic from the CBD, and said Delmar, Edison, State and Grand avenues should be two-way streets within the CBD to handle interior traffic.

Additional parking is proposed in the 1800 blocks of Edison, State and Grand; in the 1900 block between State and Grand; in the 2000 block between State and Grand south of 20th; and in the 2000 block between Grand and Madison.

Nineteenth street is to handle one-way traffic, with the streets carrying traffic serving two-way traffic. Its new visual attraction is to be a series of trees, through the CBD.

Information Service
In reviewing progress being made, Trone particularly noted the benefits of the new anonymous telephone information service which was instituted last week in the Quad-Cities area.

With the service, addicts wishing help or persons desiring to provide information on the drug problem may do so on a confidential basis by phoning 576-2383 and asking for Mrs. Douglass.

Trone pointed out that enforcement of the drug laws has become more difficult as many illegal drug merchants no longer are connected with any type of syndicate.

"The easier way is to steal prescription blanks from offices of physicians and forging them. Some will purposely obtain an appointment in a doctor's office to get an opportunity to steal a pad of prescription forms," he said.

Other methods noted were burglaries of offices of physicians, where prescriptions, paraphernalia are stolen, and of drug stores. An example cited was the burglary of two pharmacies in the Quad-Cities area. The Tri-Cor Medical building last week.

Trone also stated that steps are being taken to get speed up in prosecution of drug law violators. Laboratory analysis of confiscated drugs and analysis before grand jury indictments can be obtained, but the current method of obtaining such reports, through the

German Measles Inoculation Program Being Scheduled

The Illinois State Health Department has advised the March of Dimes committees from Madison and Venice they will receive enough German Measle vaccine to administer 21,000 shots to school children in the kindergarten, first and second grades in Madison and Venice school districts. Parents will be furnished with a four-page booklet explaining the effects of German Measles, if contacted, and the present program, along with a permission card to be signed by parents or guardians of the students. The state has not yet announced if enough vaccine will be supplied to include all pre-school children and girls up to the age of 13 years in this program. All vaccine, supplies and technicians will be furnished by the state, and local physicians have volunteered their services to oversee the day-long project. With information received by the two local committees that a measles epidemic is expected in late 1970 and early 1971, the program is being put in motion to eliminate the disease from the community. Mayors in all the cities in the county have been alerted and requested to set up committees to make suitable arrangements for programs in their area. Mayor Donald Partney is now in the process of appointing

Council Wants

The police desk, along with a police department secretary, to relieve two patrolmen for patrol.

Also in the police department, the canine corps would be eliminated, with the two handlers assigned to regular police duty. This change, the mayor added, also would reduce the number of patrol cars to be purchased, since the two canine corps station wagons could be utilized for regular patrols. The council last week approved a bid call for six new patrol cars.

The mayor said he had conferred with department heads on the program and that the savings would amount to $86,820 over the six-month period from Feb. 1 through July 31.

Officers, Employees Present
All department heads were present for the special session, and more than 50 city employees were in the audience.

In an effort to stop layoffs, Alderman Parmley called upon the department heads to begin an austerity program—even to changing light bulbs and halting car washes for city vehicles.

It was estimated that city purchases average $121,000 a month, and it was decided to limit the amount to $75,000 to $80,000, with the department heads to determine where cuts are to be made.

The mayor's program calls for a further reduction in the city work force in the next few months, "unless our financial situation improves." He added that the layoffs "will happen on Feb. 1, unless $500,000 is forthcoming."

Alderman Dawes suggested the aldermen forego their monthly pay and expense allowance that amount to $175 a month to build up the cash reserve and that all other expense allowances to city employees and officers should be cut.

No action was taken by the council, but Alderman Boker added that a savings could be made if the council reduced the number of meetings from three to two a month. Aldermen are paid $50 a meeting for three meetings a month and receive $25 a month for expenses. The added funds, should all aldermen forego their funds, would be $2900 a month, or $16,800 over the six months.

Refuse to File Letter
Council members refused to place on file the mayor's letter by a vote of 4-to-7. Voting for it were Rutledge, Whitmer, Jarrett and Boker, and voting "no" were Dallas, Parmley, Poulos, Green, Dawes, Morlen and Schuler.

Allderman Parmley, who presented the motion for a figure to be prepared for tax anticipation warrants, commented that the council has "two more meetings to make a decision" before the Feb. 1 deadline set by the mayor.

The mayor told the Press-Record that as the chief executive officer of the city he has the authority to institute corrective measures whenever required, "and this would include the Feb. 1 layoffs."

To review the city's financial condition, the aldermen were given copies of the treasurer's report for December that was brought up-to-date to Jan. 8 to provide current reserve fund balances.

The reserve accounts totaled $12,174, including $38,879 in tax commissions, $76,329 in the working cash fund, $6429 in the parking meter account, $259 sales tax, $337 state income tax revenue and $500 in a temporary account.

Anticipated Income
Anticipated income, other than the promised $700,000 federal funds, includes about $41,000 a month from sales tax, $20,000 average a month from the state income tax and a final tax settlement on last year's collection due from the county treasurer's office and estimated at $30,000 to $40,000. Arrangements are being made for at least a partial payment of the final tax settlement before the usual date in March. Treasurer Rich was instructed to make the arrangements with County Treasurer John Maers, and steps were taken Tuesday.

The December general fund balances on Dec. 31 totaled $291,206, and city expenditures, as spelled out by Rich to the council and revised Tuesday, amount to $121,000 a month along with a monthly payroll of $110,000 for a total of $331,000 a month. Mayor Parmley has stressed the city is attempting to meet a $3,745,143 council-set budget with an income of $2,590,635.

While loss of tax revenue through personal property is not to occur this year, Rich warned the council that payments from the state income tax fees could be short in overall tax collection by $2,000,000.

Expense Cutting Plans
Council members are hopeful of cutting monthly operating costs, and if successful, would set that figure at $185,000 to $190,000, including payroll, instead of $231,000. For the four months of this fiscal year, the total would be $740,000 to $760,000, and for the six-month period until new tax money is received, the minimum total operating costs would be $1,110,000 to $1,140,000, without the layoffs.

On the income side, with the $12,714 in reserve funds and $291,206 in general fund balances, the cash available presently is $413,920, to which can be added the sales tax and state income tax revenues, averaging $61,000 a month. With the estimated $30,000 final payment of 1968 taxes, the total money available would be $487,920 for the four months of the fiscal year and $89,920 for the six-month period.

Receipts of the $90,000 from the federal government would increase these totals to $777,920 and $899,920. Added allocations from the federal government would aid in "filling the gap."

Reduction in spending and purchase can be curtailed, several council members noted, but no added funds are included for any possible future sewer breaks. Under close watch now is a suspicion depression in Rodger avenue. Also, final bills are not in for the latest break on Fehling road.

Need Police, Firemen
In debating the mayor's program, the aldermen objected to the cutbacks in the police and fire departments. "The city is not adequately protected now," Alderman Whitmer remarked, adding, "I would be in favor of putting the city in debt to give the people the protection they're entitled to."

Alderman Parmley conceded, "Yes, we did overstep. We gave raises we couldn't afford because we were expecting more funds from the state income tax. (Most employees received $75 a month increase last year.)"

"I'm as guilty as the others here in overspending and voting for special improvement projects," Parmley said. "We have all learned a lesson, but I won't go any farther as long as the banks have money that can be borrowed."

Parmley and several other aldermen expressed concern over disbandment of the canine corps. He estimated $12,000 has been invested over the years in training and equipment.

"We can't afford to let that go, knowing that the dogs have a great psychological effect on criminals, and the demonstrations given by the officers at schools leaves a lasting impression on youngsters," Parmley stated.

He pointed to commendations given by the canine corps officers, and their willingness to forego the added $30 a month they receive for handling the dogs. "The patrol has done a great deal for this community," Parmley concluded.

Mayor Parmley replied he was well aware of the benefits of police dogs, but that he knew of other instances, also, where the dogs founded.

Drop in Bucket
Alderman Poulos told the mayor, "The $95,000 drop in the bucket, we couldn't foresee these sewer breaks," and Green added that he was certain the city would be able to borrow funds.

Joining the discussion, Alderman Dallas said curbs and sidewalks under special improvements are needed improvements—ones that people can see—while sewers are underground and soon forgotten.

He added that the city needs a street crew, and that the transfers of street men to the sewage treatment plant, using those funds to pay salaries, should not be undertaken if it would result in an increase in the 90-cent monthly sewage treatment charges.

Green added that he could not see how the street department could operate efficiently with fewer men.

Poulos interrupted to urge the council to "get down to doing something."

Mayor Parmley replied that the only suggestion had been to borrow money—something, he did not want.

Three Alternatives
Schuler then listed three steps that could be taken: "1. The layoffs, that would work hardships on families. 2. Tax anticipation warrants, but we don't know how much. This could possibly be the best solution. 3. Levying a 5% tax on utilities that we have the power to do. I suggest the city attorney explore this means and bring in the data on possible income and how long it would take to start getting the money and how the utilities would handle it."

No action was taken on Schuler's suggestion for the utility tax.

Schuler also suggested that with the new fiscal year, the city should consider bulk purchases for an entire year to obtain reduced prices on expendable items. Alderman Rutledge recalled that in 1967, the city had another severe sewer breaks that cost $75,000 to repair. "We didn't borrow money then, but we did cut down on spending and carried a $350,000 red balance in the sewer maintenance fund."

Tax Objections
He pointed out that to date the council has spent $60,000 from general funds for special improvements. "What really bothers me is what is ahead. A local citizens group advised us studying tax levies, and that major taxpayers probably will file objections to certain of our tax levies next year. This could cost the city $85,000."

Mayor Parmley repeated that "Unless there is sufficient money in the general fund on Feb. 1 for continued operation in the city, the layoffs will start on that date. For 24 years that I know of the city has never borrowed money. Before that, two fire trucks were purchased and the trucks were worn out while the city paid interest but no principal on the loans. They were finally paid for in the 1940s."

Treasurer Rich said he could "see sufficient funds to meet the full payroll for February," but the mayor said the city needs $500,000 more to meet all needs.

Must Be Paid—First
Parmley asked what limitations there were on tax anticipation warrants, and was answered by Rich, who said the city may borrow up to 75% of its general operating tax levy.

The treasurer stressed that the first tax money received next July would go to pay the anticipation warrants, and the city also would be required to replace the $147,000 borrowed from the working cash fund. That could be borrowed back immediately, he added.

In his letter to the council, the mayor said "Department seniority shall prevail in making this reduction in forces."

Employees most recently hired shall be laid off first and when recalled shall be reinstated according to seniority, if they are available."

While the mayor said he had asked the school district to take over the crossing guard duties, it was learned the school is forbidden by state law to hire crossing guards, a chore given specifically to municipalities for which a special tax may be levied.

708 MH Board Meets, Skips Major Issues of GC Dispute

Five of the seven members of Madison county's 708 Mental Health board met in a crowded room Tuesday night, exchanged words between themselves over several topics, blamed the press for "misunderstandings" over mental health financing procedures and informed the public there are no politics involved in its dispute with the Quad-Cities Mental Health Board.

Several board members clashed on occasion with persons in the audience who questioned 708 board actions regarding operation of the Quad-City Mental Health center from which the 708 board has withheld all tax funds since Dec. 1.

About 60 persons attended the meeting, many of them openly hostile over the conflict between the 708 county board and the Quad-City board which has closed down the present Granite City clinic.

Generally, the 708 board passed over the major issues of the dispute between the county and the Quad-City board, taking no official board action in the matter except to accept and receive with thanks a letter from the Quad-City board dated Dec. 18 in which the Quad-City Mental Health board members announced their resignations.

Repeated Resignation
Since that time, however, the Quad-City board, assured sufficient state funds to continue operation of the Granite City clinic without county tax money, has repealed the earlier decision to resign and turn the clinic facilities over to the 708 board.

No mention of this was made in the meeting procedure, although at one point a board member severely criticized the state mental health department for coming to the aid of the clinic.

Attending Tuesday's board session as regular staff members were J. J. "Doc" Gramlich of Highland, chairman; Edwin F. Reiske, Granite City; Dr. Edwin Buzan of Altoona; Harry R. Johnson of Madison; and Ralph Yehm of Wood River. The two absent board members were Allan O. Claus and June Kluge, both of Collinsville.

The entire proceedings were recorded by a stenographer who accompanied Marshall "Zeke" Smith, assistant state's attorney, to the meeting. Smith has attended most recent meetings of the 708 board and reported to the board members.

Acceptance of the Quad-City board's letter of resignation was the first order of business on a motion by Reiske. Contents of the letter were not read and Reiske referred to it only as "this communication of Dec. 18." Other board members agreed they had received a copy and had read it. Reiske then moved that "we accept with thanks" and the motion carried, without discussion.

Objects to Reports
Gramlich noted at this point that "there is something I want to bring out—this is not done at our meetings once a month. We do not conduct any business except at our monthly meeting." The chairman then referred to what he termed misleading statements in news reports to the effect that the state pays half of the operating costs of the mental health clinic.

"That is not true," Gramlich said. "The state furnishes one-half the cost of the staff."

Gramlich then asked: "Isn't that true, Mr. Murney?" The question was directed to Dr. Richard Murney, Madison subdistrict director of the Illinois Department of Mental Health, who was in the audience.

Dr. Murney replied that "the amounts of expenditure locally and by the state are open to the public." Gramlich read a list of figures on disbursements by the Altoona mental health clinic and pointed out that the state did not pay "anywhere near" half of the amount, and that mental health expenditures never have been shared on a 50-50 basis by the state.

Dr. Murney replied that the state pays payments are based on the "amount of local support."

Conflict over Identity
Conflict over the identity of an applicant for a psychologist position, interviewed by the 708 board several weeks ago when it appeared the county board might take over the Granite City clinic, developed between Reiske and Dr. Buzan in the discussion of a request by Circuit Judge William Beatty that Tuesday night and cited yesterday in the court.

The request, which has been before the board for several months and for which a $10,000 appropriation was approved by the county board of supervisors, was repeated by Judge Beatty, who appeared before the board Tuesday night and cited yesterday in the court.

Beatty said he had been asked to serve the county detention home. The request, which has been before the board for several months and for which a $10,000 appropriation was approved by the county board of supervisors, was repeated by Judge Beatty, who appeared before the board Tuesday night and cited yesterday in the court.

other information," Dr. Buzan commented. Gramlich called for a vote on Johnson's motion and Dr. Buzan voted "no" while the other four members carrying the motion.

Dr. Buzan again asked "Who are you talking about?" Smith interrupted at this point to explain that "it could be this man is already an employee here," implying that to identify him might jeopardize his job. "But they are talking about one certain man," Dr. Buzan said.

Gramlich noted, "We have been voted to grant the money, but only to have an interview. We have applications from nine persons."

Reiske and Dr. Buzan again argued over identity of the applicant and Reiske said: "We have nine people. Seven have been interviewed. No commitments have been made. I will not reveal names because someone might try to get to them. If there is any politics, it is not in this stuff in the papers. 'Well, what didn't you say?' That's what I've been trying to find out," Dr. Buzan said.

No Truth To It
Yehm, referring to earlier remarks by Dr. Buzan that he had called of things in the papers that he never heard of, remarked, "I'm like Dr. Buzan. I see all this stuff in the papers about us trying to close the Granite City clinic. There is no truth to that at all."

A member of the audience asked for the floor. It was Louis Paschoff, a member of the Quad-City board, who said: "If you are not trying to close down the Granite City clinic, then why are you interviewing a psychologist?" Paschoff asked.

Reiske declared that Paschoff had read a lot of things in the papers that he never heard of, and that he was not trying to close down the Granite City clinic. He said he was interviewing a psychologist because he was not sure of the facts.

Reiske said he was interviewing a psychologist because he was not sure of the facts. He said he was interviewing a psychologist because he was not sure of the facts.

The board then considered routine matters including the form of a contract for dispensing funds, approved an item on disbursement of funds, and the Altoona clinic and discussed a request for a $1000 appropriation for the Madison County Association for Retarded Children.

Proposed County Job
At the meeting nearest adjournment, Smith addressed the audience to explain reports concerning creation of a proposed job as liaison director for mental health work in Madison county and said that it was at his suggestion that $10,000 was included in the county budget for that purpose.

He said he believes there is need of such a director who could coordinate mental health activities because next year it is possible the county will have $400,000 budget for mental health operations.

He noted that the 708 board members do not get paid, and that they do not have time to make investigations of various programs and do a lot of paper work as would be handled by a co-ordinating county director.

Referring to the dispute with the Quad-City board, Smith said that "if we keep our cool, this can work out." There is no work in this, and if that phrase is used it is in the wrong connotation. In the end, things will be worked out. You people aren't bad. These people aren't bad. The law is specific and that is the way it must proceed."

Doesn't Want Job
Gramlich, in answer to published reports that he had been asked to take the county director post and that he had asked to think it over, told the audience that he was not taking such a job. It was mentioned in the beginning more as a joke. I want to serve out my term in Granite City and I am busy in the job business.

Staten, whose job as director of the Granite City clinic is the principal target of the 708 board, asked for the floor. He said he was not interested in the job. He said he was not interested in the job.

Eftimoff Renamed President of CYS

Vasil Eftimoff, director of Pupil Personnel Services for the Granite City school system, was re-elected president of Co-ordinated Youth Services, an agency of the Tri-Cities United Fund, at the annual election meeting Tuesday.

Elected to serve as treasurer during 1970 was Wade James, newly-appointed administrative assistant of the Madison school district.

Dr. Raymond, Troyer, a SIU faculty member was re-named vice-president and Mrs. Nan Henderson, a citizen-member of the CYS board of governors was re-elected secretary.

During the annual meeting, held in the conference room of the Chamber of Commerce, directors voted to amend the agency's by-laws to permit the appointment of three teenage members to the governing board.

Selection of the three young people who will represent Granite City, Madison and Venice high schools, together with other new members to the CYS board will be announced in February.

C. A. MacMillan, CYS executive director, reported a total of 1942 cases was handled by the local agency staff in 1969. Comparison figures showed an increase of 25% more cases last year than processed by the agency during the previous 12-month period. Total cases in 1968 numbered 1448; 1967 totals were 1058 and in 1966, only 494 cases were processed.

Greatest upsurge was noticed in the CYS delinquency prevention programs which in 1969 increased to 901 cases, or 14% more than in 1968, and 689 cases in 1967.

Behaviour problems also sprang upwards, with 105 cases in 1969, compared to 161 in 1968 and 171 in 1967. Counseling services offered by the local agency also rose sharply last year, with 221 cases, up from 86 in 1968 and 73 in 1967.

Child-parent problems dropped from 505 in 1968 to 260 last year. Delinquency problems cases also decreased slightly from 102 cases in 1968 to 95 in 1969, and probation supervision was lowered by six cases from 16 handled in 1968.

Teacher Appeals for Used Band Instruments

Fred Stille, a teacher at Washington elementary school who taught in the Bureau of Indian Affairs educational system at Mountain Village, Alaska, this week issued an appeal for discarded musical instruments for shipment to Indian children at his former school.

The native Granite Cityan recently learned from Robert L. Henry, principal-teacher at his former school that the Mountain Village youngsters are interested in learning to play various instruments and in organizing a band.

The remote village school which has a student body of 100 pupils in grades one through eighth, currently has a rhythm band in which they use drums, sticks and small song flutes. The only other instruments available are one clarinet and a trombone.

Stille said any type of musical instrument, whether repairable or in working condition, will be appreciated, but he noted that clarinets and cornets could be more easily shipped.

Persons wishing to donate used or discarded instruments to the Indian children are asked to contact Stille by calling 876-0317.

SIU Trustees to Meet Saturday

Southern Illinois University Trustees will hold their January meeting Saturday morning at the Southwestern Campus in Edwardsville

The date was changed because of a conflict with a call meeting of university presidents and board chairmen at the governor's office in Chicago on Friday. Saturday's meeting will be held at the University Center, beginning at 9:30 a.m. Among other issues the board is expected to request a request for sponsorship of the Mississippi River Festival during the 1970 summer season.

The board last month rejected the program because of a $180,000 deficit incurred in the presentation of the festival last year.

Trustees also are scheduled to discuss residence hall board room rates, changes in the status of the department of nursing and participation of the University under the Illinois Police Training Act.

Flu Causes Hospital to Set Visitor Limits
St. Elizabeth Hospital administrative and medical staff officials announced that visitation to hospital patients will be limited to their immediate families, due to the number of influenza cases prevalent in the community.

Dr. Hector Zetzellos, chief of the hospital's medical staff, explained the restriction has been advised as a precautionary measure for the safety of all patients, primarily to avoid complications arising from contracting influenza.

The local hospital currently is filled to capacity with a total of 280 bed patients. Sister Mary Thomas, administrator said this week.

Upon admittance to St. Elizabeth, new patients will be notified about the visitor restriction policy and staff personnel on each floor have been alerted to the limitation rules. Dr. Zetzellos said.

Current visiting hours for general patients are from 1 to 8 p.m. daily. Visitation to the pediatrics ward is from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 6 to 7 p.m. daily.

Playing his first game as a sophomore re-entry student, Summers scored only six points during the first half but played on to lead the Cougars' rebounding and scoring, with 23 points and 15 rebounds.

The Cougar team was off form during the first half after a 21-day layoff from games. MacMurray, coming from a tour of games in the southern states, gained a 47-36 lead at intermission.

Twelve minutes into the last half, Summers made a driving layup, giving the Cougars a 58-57 scoreboard advantage. With minute and 21 seconds left on the clock, Venice stand-out Rich Essington stood a field goal for SIU-SW's closest trailing margin in the final minutes 84-81.

Perhaps to become MacMurray's all-time points leader, Marc Kob, took three shots and scored with 28 points.

Summers sank 10 of 17 field throws and three of four from the free line. The Cougars' field average was 43% and MacMurray hit 50%.

Bernie Pitts totaled 21 points, Essington 18, Dennis Carroll 11, Fred Wilke seven, Jack McDole three and John Belk two. SIU-SW, now 4-5 on the season, will next visit the University of Missouri at Rolla Saturday.

Fast Breaks Turn Tide

MHS Coach Larry Graham commented, "The whole third quarter was all Althoff. Tom Blome was hitting well and getting inside. And Althoff made a couple of fast breaks that hurt us. The period ended in a 14-14 deadlock."

The Trojans streaked back during the fourth quarter with Blome and Douer, and Cannon, a crucial steal by Chuck Dandridge and fine floor maneuvering by Charles Penney.

Noel's turnaround jump shot from the side of the key and foul tossed the game for Madison. The final seconds after Althoff had once again tied it, 74-74, on Blome's driving shot.

Althoff, switched back to a man-to-man defense on the final play, for which MHS had called until about seven seconds were left. A set play failed to tell but Noel's hot hand proved decisive.

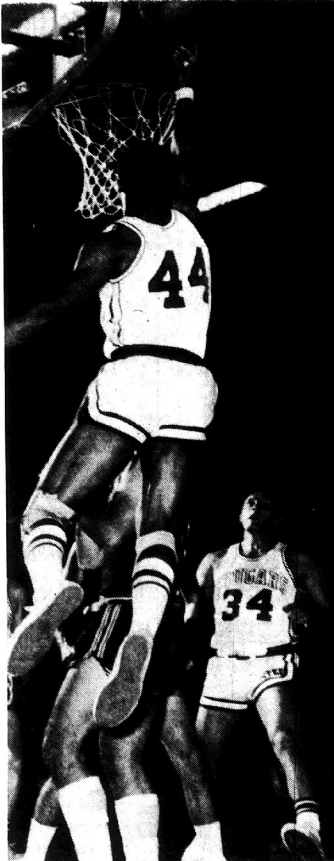

Blome totaled 24 points and Mike Kurtz 20 for Althoff, which was aided greatly in the scoring by the late going by Dave Schwemmer's four free throws and a goal by Blome.

Schedule Conflict

Granite City high's junior varsity soccer game at Augustinian Tuesday was not played because of a scheduling conflict.

SUMMERS WAITS TO REBOUND. SIU-SW Captain Bernie Pitts (44) sinks a basket during the Cougars' 94-85 loss to MacMurray College Monday at Edwardsville high school. Summers (24) of Madison led all Cougars' rebounding and scoring. Coach Harry Gallatin said, "Summers will make the difference between a winning and losing season for us. He has a real fine shot and terrific moves. Best of all, he'll fight for possession of the ball."

Trojans Lose Lead But Defeat Althoff

A three-point play by Tom Noel when three seconds remained made the Trojans 77-74 victors at Belleville Allhoff Tuesday.

When two minutes were left on the clock, Madison led by eight points. But it threw the lead away with hasty field goal attempts.

Joe Dozier's 23 points and John Cannon's 18 paced the Trojans' comeback. Noel's turnaround jump shot from the side of the key and foul tossed the game for Madison. The final seconds after Althoff had once again tied it, 74-74, on Blome's driving shot.

Althoff, switched back to a man-to-man defense on the final play, for which MHS had called until about seven seconds were left. A set play failed to tell but Noel's hot hand proved decisive.

Blome totaled 24 points and Mike Kurtz 20 for Althoff, which was aided greatly in the scoring by the late going by Dave Schwemmer's four free throws and a goal by Blome.

Warriors, Devils Win 2 of 3 Tourney Games

Warrior cagers tonight at 8:40 face Jerseyville in the semi-finals of the Dupo invitational tourney. Venice plays for third place at 8:40 p.m. Friday.

On Tuesday, Granite City downed the host team 84-35 for Dupo's 14th loss in as many outings.

For the first five minutes, the game went scoreless. Dupo attempted to hold the ball and the Warriors got off five unsuccessful field attempts.

GCHS Coach Don Deterding, who had earlier planned to substitute his players in five-man platoons at each quarter, sent in the second platoon after the five minutes to inject more speed. Quarterly GCHS leads were 12-5, 36-15 and 54-24.

Venice won Tuesday's tourney-opening game from Freeburg 65-30 but lost 32-71 to highly-rated Assumption in a semi-final game Wednesday.

The schedule: Tonight, consolation semi-final, Dupo vs. Orchard Farm, 7 o'clock; semi-final, Granite City vs. Jerseyville, 8:40.

Friday: consolation final, Freeburg vs. Dupo-Orchard victor, 7 p.m.; third place game, Venice vs. GCHS-Jerseyville loser, 8:40 p.m.

Saturday: championship, Assumption vs. GCHS-Jerseyville victor, 7:30 p.m.

In the other first round game, on Wednesday, Jerseyville defeated Orchard Farm, Mo., 79-37.

GCHS pointmakers against Dupo were Jeff Boyles 18, Steve Harris 17, Gary Johnson 15, Mike DeRuntz 10, Terry Ripka six, Don Harris, Greg Jones and Joe Wallace, each four; and Tim Schwendeman, Tim Moore and John Ireland, two each.

Red Devils scoring against Freeburg were Cedric Gardner 20, Fessor Gray 19, Andrei Johnson 12, Doug Johnson eight and Jim Ohlendorf, Harold Gonterman and Larry Mosby, two points each. Quarter leads were 15-5, 29-12 and 42-25.

Against Assumption, Venice scorers were Gray 26, Gardner 24, Doug Johnson nine, Andrei Johnson six and Ohlendorf six.

VHS Coach Bill Ohlendorf complimented his players' performance in both assignments and found that Assumption "was just too big for us. They went inside on us a lot. For their 6-9 player (Rick Suttie), there was no way we could stop him."

Auto Slides Down Driveway, Struck

The force of gravity, abetted by a slick surface, went into effect as Joseph Michel, 1913 Ponton road, backed his auto out of the garage and left it in the driveway at 8:50 a.m. today.

It slid down the driveway onto the road and was struck in the left side by a truck driven by David McFarland, 18, of 2800 West 22nd street. Michel tried to stop the car by holding onto the bumper but was being dragged along with it and he let go. McFarland complained of pains.

Two new courses in skin and scuba diving instruction, one in Granite City and the second in Edwardsville, will be offered by the YMCAs in cooperation with the Bubblemasters Scuba Club of Granite City. It was announced today by Chris Geroff, club president.

Registrations for both courses currently are being accepted at the local and Edwardsville YMCAs. Classes at the Tri-City YMCA will start on Monday evening, Jan. 26, with sessions at the new "pool in Edwardsville to begin Sunday afternoon, Jan. 25.

Both courses will be open to men and women, with a minimum age limit of 16 years in local classes and 17 years in the Edwardsville program. Sessions, conducted on a four-hour per week basis for a period of eight consecutive weeks, consist of pool work and classroom instruction.

At a meeting of the Bubblemasters club earlier this week at the local YMCA, Geroff reported 13 club members have indicated interest in securing radiological training through the Granite City civil defense with assignment to the CD corps upon graduation.

The meeting concluded with underwater movies, filmed by Bubblemasters Joe and Mary Clark in the Florida Keys.

state crime laboratory, is too slow.

"The state lab is too busy," he said, after being asked why defendants arrested in a raid in Granite City last February have never been prosecuted.

Efforts are being made to obtain immediate lab reports locally through a pharmacist who can qualify as an expert in presenting testimony. "Pharmacists in general are knowledgeable as to the content but could not be used as expert witnesses," he said.

Officers from eight police departments in the county attended the organizational meeting, the fourth to be held.

Demos Nicholas, assistant chief deputy sheriff, was named temporary chairman, and a by-laws committee of five officers was named. It will call an election of officers, after which a central information system will be formed.

A proposal to deputize police officers in the county into the sheriff's department for service with the narcotics squad was discussed and is to receive further consideration later.

Also discussed was a proposal for a specialized training course in narcotics and drug abuse. Nicholas reported that a federal agency has offered to finance either a one or a two-week course which could be conducted in the county.

Another meeting of the squad is to be held in about two weeks.

Two persons were injured Wednesday afternoon in an auto-truck accident on Edwardsville road at the railroad crossing near 20th street. Injured were Dorothy Skippier, 20, of 2817 Willow avenue, driver of the auto, and a passenger, Richard Skippier, 17, of the same address. Police said the west-bound auto was damaged at the front, and there was damage to the rear of the truck operated by Ervin Kehrer, 49, of New Memphis, Ill.

Bessie B. Stoll, 84, of 91 Venice Homes, Venice, complained of pains after her auto was struck from behind by a car driven by Darrell R. Crawford, Peabodians, who slid on ice, at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday on Nameoki road in front of Coolidge junior high school. The small auto stopped in traffic, was shoved into the rear of another driven by Larry G. Franklin, Nashville, Ill., which also stopped. Crawford was charged with driving too fast for conditions.

Wanda Melton, 36, of 2137 Washington avenue, a passenger, complained of neck pains after an auto driven by L. C. Melton, same address, called in with a soda truck driven by William B. Bain, 2137 Terminal avenue, at 4:10 p.m. Tuesday on Madison avenue at 27th street. She was treated by a physician.

Injured in Crash
Julius Wallace, 25, of 2256 Washington avenue, and Mrs. Janice Wallace, of the same address, were given emergency treatment for neck injuries yesterday at the hospital. They were hurt about 5:30 p.m. Details of the mishap were not available.

Lake School Will Get Classroom-Office Addition

Construction of a special education addition to Lake grade school using conventional building procedures was authorized by the Granite City School board Monday night.

Use of conventional building procedures was authorized by the Granite City School board Monday night. The vote was 3-1, with Secretary Donald Stucke, Treasurer A. L. Melcher and Harold Davis favoring regular construction and George Moore Sr. favoring steel. Not present were President E. W. Walton, Monroe Worthen and Carl Macios.

Included will be four classrooms, two small office areas and two restrooms. The addition will connect with the Lake gymnasium.

Architects Henry Gabriel and Sylvester Dugleroff said they will attempt to design the structure so that 2000 square feet of space can be obtained for about $85,000.

Special Education Supervisor
The board also authorized a job description for a new position of special education consultant in the school district. Applicants are to be sought for the supervisory post, which will be paid at 110%-112.5% of the teacher salary schedule. The recommendation was submitted by Supt. B. J. Davis and Vasil Efthymiou, director of pupil personnel services.

Mrs. Marion Rose Shelton, 2127 Harrison avenue, was hired as a non-structural teacher aide for the primary (age five-to-nine) trainable mentally handicapped class. The board discussed creating the positions of maintenance supervisor, to work under Tully A. Heubner, director of buildings and grounds, and purchasing agent, to assist Comptroller Victor G. Anderson, who became ill in late December, arrived home on Tuesday. No action was taken on the proposed positions. A discussion brought out that state law prevents the school system from hiring crossing guards in Granite City. State law permits but does not require the city to provide such guards.

Mr. McIlvoy was born in Venice, Ill., and was a member of the Methodist faith. He was preceded in death by his wife, Retha.

Surviving are five sons, Wendell and Wayne McIlvoy, both of Granite City, Lester and Jennings McIlvoy, both of Detroit, Mich., three daughters, Mrs. Thomas (Coleen) Hennessy, Mrs. Alfred (Celia) Schriber and Mrs. Gene (Pat) Martin, all of Granite City; 19 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

BOB HOPE SHOW

Two cousins have written home from different parts of the world asking their parents and families to watch the Bob Hope Christmas show tonight to see if they can be seen on the show.

Staff Sgt. Carl E. Downs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Downs, 64 Garesche Homes, Madison, has written to his parents from Berlin, Germany. He was on guard assignment for Hope during his Berlin show.

His wife, the former Phyllis Gibbs of Madison, and daughter, Carla, are with him in Berlin.

FRENCH TEACHERS at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, Mr. and Mrs. Max Delhomme of southwestern France, who claim the only way to learn a language is by speaking it, not analyzing grammatical construction.

'Electronic Secretary' Serves Students at SIU

There's only one place in the country where a college student can dial "an electronic secretary" and relay to his professor a question about the course, to be answered at the next class meeting. That's at Southern Illinois University's Carbondale campus.

SIU's Learning Resources Service created this unique teaching aid, according to Harry Denzel, director of the service's self-instruction center. Say a student wants to know what the teacher meant by a certain statement in class or wants a less technical explanation of a passage in the textbook. He can dial 433-5738 by day or 433-2554 at night or on weekends and tell it to the electronic secretary.

His message is recorded. Next morning a staff member of Learning Resources transcribes the message and either phones it to the professor or sends a typed copy to him. When the class meets, the professor can give the student a quick answer or discuss the matter for the whole class.

"Our only problem is that too few students are taking advantage of the electronic secretary," Denzel explained. "We would like all the faculty to remind students of this channel for getting problems cleared up."

The electronic secretary is only one of the ways the Self-Instruction Center is giving students a helping hand. It has built up a large stock of programmed books, slides and tape recordings which students may use for study and review, each learning at his own pace, while seated in booths in the center.

Business Fraternity Views Prize Ads

Mark Russell, director of community relations for Knox-Tv, was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Phi Beta Lambda national business fraternity at SIU-SW campus recently.

His topic was television advertisements and he showed a film of award winning commercials of 1969.

Representing Granite City at the meeting were Maurice Lambert, president, Cornelius Carson, vice-president, Gary Eads, Michael Gibbs, Darrel Jarman, Richard Lambert, Jerry Ritchie, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ciesello.

The next meeting on Feb. 4 will be held in the Missouri Room at the University Center.

French Teachers Talk On Learning Language

"You learn a language only by speaking it, not by analyzing its grammatical construction," says Frenchman Max Delhomme, new associate professor of language at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

"Any linguist knows teaching grammar first is the wrong approach."

"Americans who have studied French often have difficulty communicating when they visit my country because they were taught by the wrong method. First, you have to learn to say things that have a meaning. After you learn to communicate, you can learn the rules of grammar."

Delhomme and his wife, Marie Raymonde, who is also teaching French here, and their two daughters arrived last fall from southwestern France where he was a professor of English and French at Lycee d'Aranson and Mrs. Delhomme was a high school teacher.

There is no truth in the allegation that Frenchmen have no respect for Americans, Delhomme says. "On the contrary, the esteem for people of the

Career Conference Set Saturday at SIU-SW

Representatives from more than 20 Illinois state agencies will visit Southern Illinois-Southwestern for the annual Career Conference Day on Saturday.

They will be interviewing students who will soon be graduated for positions with the various agencies.

The Career Conference will be held in the University Center ballroom from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

David R. VanHorn, director of placement services, said nearly 100 students have already indicated they will accept positions with either state or federal agencies after graduation.

3 Students Inducted Into Honor Society

Three Venice students attending Marquette high school at Alton were inducted into the National Honor Society during recent ceremonies at the school.

They are Linda Davinroy, a senior, and Rosemary Bibbey and Elaine Svezia, juniors.

Membership pins and cards were presented to SI students by Sister Miriam Patricia, O.S.U.

"Othello" to be Staged At Loretto-Hilton

William Shakespeare's "Othello," a tragedy of villainy and love misunderstanding, will have its opening performance next Thursday at the Repertory theatre, Loretto-Hilton center in Webster Groves, Mo.

Eleven previews opened to the public last Monday. Cast in leading roles are Earle Hyman, Marian Mercer and John Devlin as Othello, Desdemona and Iago, respectively. Tickets and schedules may be obtained by phoning the theatre box office.

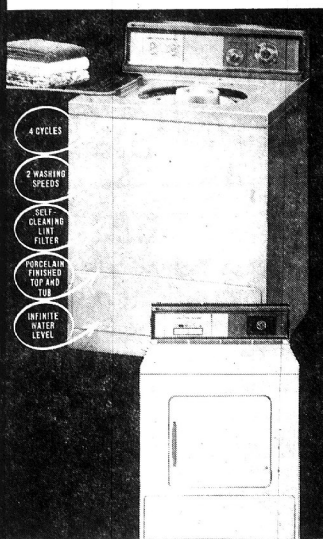

United States runs high. It is especially perceptible in the younger generation. They are eager to come to the States to see how Americans live; some even want to settle in the U.S."

The professor says the French tourists and those who know the language and are interested in our country.

SIU Centennial In 1st Full Year; Plans Announced

Carroll Riley, professor of anthropology at Southern Illinois University, has been named general chairman of the SIU Centennial celebration as 1970 marks the first full year of observance.

He succeeds Charles Tenney, vice-president for planning and review, who had served in the post during the planning and kickoff phase.

Riley will be assisted by Basil Hedrick, acting director of the SIU Museum.

The Centennial opened last March and is to be observed over a five-year period. The plan commemorates SIU's chartering in 1869 and the date of the first actual classes in 1874.

Different themes are to be underscored in Centennial events each year of the observance period. Last year's programming was devoted to teacher training. This year's will be devoted to exhibits, lectures, and special conferences concerning science and technology.

Topics for the succeeding years of the Centennial will be business and agriculture, behavior and social science, expression and communication, and higher education.

First major event of '70 will be the launch of a mobile Centennial museum. It includes a series of science and technology displays built into a "piggy back" semi-truck trailer.

The museum will visit schools and communities throughout southern Illinois, starting with a one-week stand at University School on the Carbondale campus. It will be opened Jan. 27 in a ribbon-cutting ceremony.

Dangers to Wild Life Workshop for Students

Dangers posed to wild animals by water pollution and pesticides will be a couple of the major lessons at an annual winter workshop for high school students starting Jan. 25 near Little Grassy Lake.

It will be Southern Illinois University's Conservation-Environmental Education Workshop and some 100 youths from throughout the state are expected to be on hand, expenses paid by local sportsmen's and civic groups.

Sponsored by the Illinois Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, the two-session series (Jan. 25-31 and Feb. 1-7) will be grounded on a theme that looms predominant for the 70's: The threatened environment.

For the workshop, the theme will be expressed in terms of wildlife as a key link in the natural resource chain. The students will take to the reaches of SIU's Outdoor Laboratory and nearby Carr Orchard National Wildlife Refuge to find out how environmental quality affects wildlife populations, relationships between habitat and animal food habits, and the ecological arguments for hunting and fishing laws.

Paul Yambert, dean of Outdoor Laboratories at SIU, will direct the program and staff members of SIU, the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, and the Illinois Department of Conservation will be the teachers.

Those successfully completing their first year received seals, county and state project honor certificates were earned by achievement members whose project scoreboards were sealed by a county 4-H club committee. The certificates recognize individual accomplishments.

City Financial Report Reflects Crisis Facing GC Council

With six months operation still remaining before it can anticipate any substantial revenue from tax collections, Granite City had balances totaling only $490,803 in all operating accounts as of Jan. 1, City Treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rich reported to city council members Monday night.

Rich reported a balance of $291,206 in the city's non-transferable general levy funds, from which virtually all major operating costs are paid, and a balance of $199,597 in the transferable general reserve funds. This latter account permits transfers into the general levy funds to pick up lagging balances when operating accounts run short.

At the same time the city treasurer's report showed that total city expenditures during the full eight months of its current fiscal year to Dec. 31 amounted to $3,080,012, or an average overall monthly expenditure of $385,000 out of the general fund levy alone.

In addition, another $222,571 was expended during the eight-month period from the city's general reserve funds for operating purposes, while $638,747 in general reserve funds was transferred into the general levy accounts to help meet claims and payrolls during the first eight months of the year.

MFT Costs Listed
Motor Fuel Tax disbursements during the eight months totaled $282,070, leaving a Jan. 1 balance of $184,099. Monies in MFT accounts are not transferable, however, and can be used only for street purposes.

The city has four months remaining of its current 1969-70 fiscal year which ends April 30. But collection of taxes seldom gets under way in Granite City township before mid-June and it usually is another month before a first distribution of tax money is made by the collector.

Until tax collections are made later this year, the city can count only on state revenues including about $41,000 per month in sales tax receipts and about $200,000 per month in income tax allotments. Most of its revenue from sources other than taxes, such as licenses, permit fees and fine receipts have been received.

Rich's report showed that as of Dec. 31 the city had paid claims totaling $480,289 for repair of sewer breaks, although claims of more than $700,000 have resulted from the repair work, a major cause of the city's financial problems.

The maintenance of sewer accounts from which these claims are paid started the year with a $95 deficit.

During the eight months of the year, the account received $30,624 in tax income under a 2-cent per $100 assessed valuation rate to which the city now is limited. The remainder of the account's funds, totaling $450,790, have been in transfers out of the general reserve funds. The report showed a Dec. 31 balance of only $883 in this account.

On the basis of a $385,000 per month expenditure during the past eight months operation, Granite City would require a total of $2,310,000 to operate another six months at the same expense ratio. On the basis of its existing balances, the city has enough money on hand to operate only about one and a half months at an average cost of $385,000 per month.

The city has a monthly payroll of about $110,000 per month. Major expenses are made for operation of the fire, police, street, sanitation and general government departments. The report showed slim balances at the beginning of this month.

Fire Dept. Deficit
According to the report submitted by Rich, the fire department had a Jan. 1 deficit of $87,554. Expenditures in the fire department during the eight-month period totaled $262,087, or a monthly average of $32,761.

The street department at the beginning of this month had a balance of $32,420 following eight-month disbursements totaling $204,654, or a monthly average street department operating cost of $25,581.

Rich said the police department, which has required a total of $281,214 during the first eight months of the year, had a Jan. 1 balance of only $501. Police department costs have averaged $35,151 per month on this basis. The sanitation department has spent $136,599 during the eight-month period, a monthly average of $17,075, but has a balance of $53,678, Rich reported.

$3.3 Million Available
General government costs for the eight-month period totaled $127,189, leaving a Jan. 1 balance of $858 in that account, the report showed. Average monthly expenditure in this account was $15,588.

The city's general levy funds began the fiscal year with balances totaling $139,841. Receipts from taxes and other sources, including transfers, added $2,504,527 to this amount. Another $711,537 was transferred from the general reserve funds to provide a total available general levy fund of $3,375,905 during the first eight months of the fiscal year.

Total expenditures of $3,080,012 and a transfer of $468,977 out of the Civil Defense fund left the Jan. 1 balance of $291,206 in the general levy fund.

While some balances in the general reserve fund accounts were raised slightly during the past month by receipt of state allocations, the Jan. 1 balance of $199,597 will drop considerably when transfers are made to meet January payrolls and claims.

Rich's report showed a balance of $49,378 in the tax commission fund, $76,229 in the working cash fund, $5812 in the parking meter fund, $7239 in the sales tax fund, $60,336 in the income tax fund, and $500 in the temporary fund which is a new reserve account for sewer repair claims.

CG School Wiring, Ceilings, Fire Alarms are Improved

Remodeling of Granite City school district buildings in compliance with the Illinois Life Safety Code is complete or will be completed by this spring in five categories, the school board was informed Monday night.

A report by Tully A. Heubner, director of the buildings and grounds, listed the five categories as fire alarms and detectors with the exception of Central junior high school, smoke partitions and doors, electrical work, fire-rated ceilings in all basement and mechanical work on heating plants.

The code, adopted after a Chicago fire fatal to over 100 pupils, emphasizes not only fire safety and prevention but maintenance of adequate air to breathe in schools, preventing the spread of deadly smoke and fumes throughout a building.

Four projects regarded as critically needed are to be carried out this winter and spring. They are a new fire alarm system, an exit from the Emerson gymnasium, fire escapes at the Logan school annex and three fire escapes and major room remodeling at Granite City high school.

Daily Train Service To Detroit Continues

The Norfolk & Western Railroad's passenger service between Granite City and Detroit continues daily, with stops at Edwardsville, Litchfield and Champaign-Urbana, a spokesman for the company said today.

Discontinuation last week of Norfolk's "Bluebird Special," from St. Louis to Chicago, which also stopped in Granite City, has resulted in confusion among many train users, who have called the company office for information.

Originating in St. Louis, the Detroit passenger train leaves Granite City at 10:02 a.m. daily, arriving in Detroit at 8:35 p.m. A second train leaves Detroit at 7:15 a.m. and arrives in Granite City at 3:30 p.m. Both schedules are on a seven-day week basis.

The train also stops at Taylorville, Decatur, Danville, Lafayette and Peru, Ind., besides several Michigan stations, the spokesman said.

provides that school districts "unable to effectuate recommendations for improvement for health and safety in school buildings prior to July 1, 1970, may petition the superintendent of public instruction upon recommendation of the county superintendent, for an extension of time."

"Such extension may be granted for one year and may be extended from year to year provided substantial progress is being made toward compliance."

Extensions may be sought this year on some pending remodeling projects at GCHS, Central, Emerson, the Logan annex, Niedringhaus, Marshall, Mitchell, Nameoki, Washington, McKinley and Webster.

New Surveys Scheduled
Under the Life Safety Code, schools reaching specified ages must be surveyed to determine what safety improvements may be needed.

The board decided Monday night to have Architect Virgil Dulgeroff survey the Lake Maryville and Wilson elementary schools, and to have the architectural firm of Henry Gabriel-Sylvester Dulgeroff survey Prairie Junior high school, the GCHS vocational addition and the GCHS addition between the buildings and original building.

In other business, the board entered into a formal agreement with the Gabriel-Dulgeroff firm for architectural services it is providing in the planning of a new gymnasium building at GCHS.

The structure will be used for physical education classes only and will not include areas for spectators, steel construction is to be utilized, and the bidding will be on a "turnkey project" basis.

For Signal Lights

State Will Survey Traffic On Rte. 203 at Eagle Park

The Illinois State Highway Department has agreed to conduct a traffic survey to determine whether the number of vehicles now using Route 203, south of the McCambridge viaduct in Madison, justifies installation of electric traffic signals at Harrison street, east of the viaduct, and at Eagle Park Acres, it was learned this week.

The action will be taken in response to requests by Eagle Park residents, who recently met with state highway officials at the department's district headquarters at French Village. Traffic counting equipment will be set up within the next week or two on Route 203 at Harrison, according to Eddie Lee Salmond, president of the Eagle Park Improvement Association, and Charles Maple, chairman of a concerned citizens' committee.

Commenting on the recent meeting, Salmond said, "They were interested in our problem and promised to survey the traffic situation to see if installation of signal lights is justified."

Our residents are determined to continue to press the state highway department for signal lights, as we believe this is the only answer to preventing a serious accident, possibly involving a bus-load of school children," Salmond said. The association president noted that Harrison street at Route 203 is the only exit from

E-W Gateway to Seek Aid to Finance Study

The highway departments of Illinois and Missouri may be asked to contribute $100,000 to the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council to finance completion of transportation studies necessary for both states to qualify for federal highway funds.

The Gateway executive advisory council, in a meeting Monday afternoon, decided to recommend to its board of directors that the money be sought to permit continued work on all five phases of the transportation program.

The Housing and Urban Development Agency (HUD) in cutting the 1970 grant for Gateway said that it no longer will finance transportation studies. But the U. S. Department of Transportation still requires development of continually updated transportation planning by any region that wishes to be eligible for federal funds for highway construction.

Edward H. Bowman, a facility planning engineer for the Illinois Division of Highways, said his department will help pay for the studies. A spokesman for the Missouri highway department said Missouri will consider it. Bowman is chairman of the Gateway transportation committee.

GC Meter Income in '69 Lowest Since '65

Revenue from operation of Granite City parking meters totaled $47,147 during 1969, the lowest collection since 1965 and a decrease of $998 below total meter income of 1968, a compilation of monthly meter collection statistics showed today.

Collection of parking meter fees during the past year amounted to $36,747, while payment of fines for meter violations accounted for $10,400, the reports show. Both figures are slightly below those of the 1968 year in which collections totaled $37,250 and fines amounted to $10,885 for a 12-month total of $48,135.

Total meter revenue figures for 1969 became available with a report by Comptroller Robert Stevens on collections for December, showing receipts of $3,127 in fees and $270 in fines for total monthly income of $3,397. While the fee collection was the largest for any single month in many years, the total amount of fines paid was the smallest since July 1965, when fine payments amounted to $245.

April Receipts High

Second largest fee collection during 1969 was in April when meter fee income amounted to $3,860. Fines during April totaled $1063, however, to bring the total for that month to $4,923 for the second largest single monthly collection, exceeded only by the December revenue of $5,397.

Largest amount of fine payments collected in any single month during the past year was received in August. Fines that month totaled $1,788. August fees amounted to only $280 to set the total income for that month at $4,668.

Parking meters operated during 1969 on 305 days of the year, resulting in an average daily income of $151. In comparison, meters operated 307 days in 1968 for an average daily revenue of $156.

Records show that total meter revenue in 1967 amounted to $45,357, and during 1966 totaled $47,311, or only $164 more than the total for the 1969 year.

Total collections by month during 1969 included: January, $3,088; February, $3,592; March, $4,009; April, $4,923; May, $4,283; June, $3,302; July, $3,063; August, $4,638; September, $3,838.

October, $3,798; November, $3,596; and December, $5,397.

The 1969 meter revenue brought to $430,444 the total amount of parking meter income received during the decade of the 1960's, with yearly totals as follows:

1960 — $41,793; 1961 — $42,921; 1962 — $39,244; 1963 — $36,206; 1964 — $38,611; 1965 — $38,629; 1966 — $47,311; 1967 — $48,337; 1968 — $48,145; and 1969 — $47,147.

The substantial increase in meter revenue during the past four years over that during the earlier years of the decade has resulted from more intense enforcement of meter violations. This improved policing program began in 1966 and was reflected in fines assessed that year.

During the 1965 year, total income from fines amounted to only $3611, but in 1966 total fine assessments jumped to $8,554. Fine payments increased again in 1967 to a total of $10,885 and in 1968 reached $10,885.

Witnesses Will Hold Convention Feb. 13-15

Angelo Scaglione, presiding minister of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, has announced plans of The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society to sponsor a three-day circuit convention for Jehovah's Witnesses at Collinsville Feb. 13-15.

Webster junior high school, Collinsville, will be the site for the assembly and up to 1500 delegates are expected to attend the various sessions. The full program schedule is to be announced later.

Feb. 15 Deadline To Display 1970 Auto Licenses

Midnight Sunday, Feb. 15, will be the deadline for having 1970 Illinois vehicle license plates mounted on the vehicles.

Secretary of State Paul Powell announced today.

Powell urged motorists who plan to submit their applications for new or renewed licenses by mail to do so without delay. He pointed out that processing time plus the fact that plates are third class mail may result in an interval of two or three weeks between receipt of the applications and delivery of the plates.

He also emphasized that having applied for the plates or carrying them inside the car after Feb. 15 will not be in compliance with the deadline requirement. The plates must be on the vehicles by the deadline.

Plates may be purchased over the counter at Secretary of State's Office facilities in Springfield and Chicago and at the First Granite City National Bank and Granite City Trust & Savings Bank here.

Tests given on Monday, Feb. 16, and read on Thursday, Feb. 19, are to be at Grigsby junior high school, Maryville, Mitchell, Stalling, Nemecki and Fordhardt schools.

Positive reactors can be chest x-rayed on the mobile unit on the following schedule at Granite City high school on Thursday, Feb. 26, and Friday, Feb. 27, from 10 a.m. until noon and from 1 to 4:30 p.m.

Area Campaign for Public Aid to Parochial Schools

Faculty and lay representatives from Roman Catholic parishes of the diocese of Springfield are launching "The Time For Action" campaign, a statewide program sponsored by the Illinois Catholic Conference designed to bring state financial aid to non-public education in Illinois by this spring.

Msgr. John J. McGrath, pastor of St. Anthony Parish, Effingham, is diocesan coordinator of the program.

Don L. Tschannen sr., Highland, chairman, and Mrs. Sarah Huber, Alton, vice-chairman, will coordinate the program in the Madison county area.

They will head the local regional committee, whose function will be to show a film, "A Time For Action," a documentary on parochial education in Illinois, and to outline the program to all parishes, parish organizations, fraternal and civic clubs and any other interested groups.

Msgr. McGrath has reported that all regional representatives will be supplied with pertinent data and current information to enable them to lead meaningful discussions after the film is shown, as well as answer the questions of those who are opposed to aid for non-public schools.

"The Time For Action" campaign is scheduled to get into full swing during February and March. Officers of school, church and civic organizations interested in seeing the film and hearing the facts of the problem are being urged to contact any member of the committee to arrange for a presentation of the program.

Msgr. McGrath comments that there has been a great deal written lately about the problems of financing schools in the state—overcrowded schools and classrooms, and shortages of teachers and equipment.

"However, these problems are in directly influenced by another complex situation—and that is the fact that the non-public schools within the state are facing a very serious financial crisis. These schools are now providing an education for one out of every five children in the state with virtually no tax help.

"A number of these schools have closed and others are faced with serious financial problems.

"This fact has led many responsible public officials to the conclusion that some limited form of state tax help should be provided to keep these schools operating. Otherwise the whole system may collapse and put a big burden on the already crowded public schools.

"This is why the Illinois Catholic Conference has prepared this campaign, presenting the case in favor of state aid for non-public schools."

Route 203 Improvement, River Road Overpass on State Highway Program; U.S. Fund Freeze Could Cancel Both

A series of major highway improvements in the Quad-City area, including reconstruction of present Route 203 (Nameoki road) into a four-lane highway from Patton road to Interstate 270 at Mitchell, included in the biggest road improvement program in Illinois this year—projected at a cost of $375.8 million—was announced this week by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie.

The project calls for highway projects estimated to cost $36,697,000 in Highway District Eight which includes Madison and St. Clair counties, and highway officials warned that the heavy work of work in this bi-county area will be subject to the federal fund "freeze" under which federal funds for highway work are being withheld in a dispute over the ratio of blacks employed on construction projects and the high labor costs of projects in these two counties.

The Route 203 highway construction which has been in the planning stage for nearly four years was projected in the new highway construction schedule at a cost of $1,385,000, with an additional provision for $500,000 to procure several remaining pieces of right-of-way. Most of the right-of-way has been obtained during the past two years, highway officials said.

The new road building schedule in the Quad-City area also calls for construction of a grade separation at Chicago street and the railroad tracks at the Army Depot as the only major phase of the Great River Road Development planned this year. Cost of the overpass is estimated at $850,000.

The work schedule does include, however, a projected $350,000 expenditure for right-of-way for "future" construction of FFA Route 151 (the Great River Road) from Niederkorn avenue to Venice where the new highway eventually will connect with the Broadway underpass. This project is projected to cost $15,000.

Right-of-way was acquired a year ago in the Kerr Island area and immediately around Venice to clear the way for construction of the overpass which will tie in with the Great River road and feed Broadway traffic going through Venice into Route 151 and to McKinley bridge. The remaining right-of-way north of the underpass to the present terminal of the Route 151 pavement at Niederkorn avenue still must be acquired, highway officials said.

One project that must certainly be carried out during the year since it will not be subject to the federal highway fund freeze will be reconstructing the two lanes of pavement on Highway 162 from Route 111 to Route 157 near Glen Carbon. This job is set up at an estimated cost of $160,000 to be financed entirely with state funds and therefore will not depend upon federal fund participation.

To Rebuild Intersection

Also scheduled in the 1970 work program is reconstruction of the intersection of Route 111 and State Aid Route 35 (Grant) in the City-Collinsville road at an estimated cost of $330,000. An additional $50,000 is provided in the program for acquiring right-of-way necessary to this project.

The Highway Department

also has acceded to requests of Route Beach officials for traffic controls along Route 111 in that area with scheduled installation of traffic signal lights and skid resurfacing on Route 111 at the village of Patton Beach at an estimated cost of $15,000.

The program, among its more minor projects, includes $84,000 for intersection lighting on FFA Route 151 at the Chain of Rocks Road and Illinois Route 3 just west of Mitchell, and $25,000 for installation of rumble strips and flasher lights on Route 111 at Route 162.

A district highway official told the Press-Record that virtually all of Madison county projects with exception of the Route 162 resurfacing in Quad-City area are still subject to the federal fund freeze.

"Unless there is a solution to the freeze, don't hold your breath until this work gets started," he said.

Principal Madison county projects included in the new road program calls for reconstruction and resurfacing of 11.96 miles of Interstate 65 and frontage road between I-270 and Hangel at a cost of $4,866,000; signs for the same section, $122,000; ramp reconstruction at Route 143, $405,000; widening at Route 143, $110,000; ramp reconstruction at Route 140, $122,000; widening of the structure there, $120,000; reconstruction and resurfacing 2.8 miles between Route 140 and Route 4, $1,246,000; signs near Worden, $350,000; signs, $35,000. Total for 1970 work is $7,684,000.

The District Eight program provides expenditure of about $43 million for interstate highway

Barkless Dog that Yodels Fancied by GC Family

Mr. and Mrs. George Wm. Hurcoy Jr., of 2406 State street are owners of an unusual breed of dogs, the Basenji Hound, a barkless dog of the Congo.

Last week their female, "Dariusz Lucy Susan," gave birth to an unborn of litter for this breed, with six puppies, five are female and one male. Usually this breed has only one or two or three or four puppies in each litter and unlike other dogs they have only one breeding season a year.

To complete their pair of unusual dogs, they also have a male known as "Marek's Kulu-boi of the Congo" which they have entered in dog show competition and will continue to enter for him to complete his championship.

According to Mrs. Hurcoy, this particular breed of dogs goes back to 2300 B.C., and legend has it that the body of the Sphinx is fashioned after the way Basenji dogs. The dogs are famous for many unusual habits as they do not bark but yodel and will whistle if hurt or homesick. They can cry real tears as they do have tear ducts.

They are in the sight hood group and are one of the best hunting dogs known to man with a top running speed of 35 to 45 mph. They can go on point 80 yards and are used in Africa their home country for killing lions and large Elk.

Some of their odd characteristics include a constant worried expression, due to a wrinkled forehead and the dog's ability to swivel its head completely around like an owl. They wash themselves and each other like cats and have no odor and do not shed.

Due to their quietness, they make ideal house pets, but are very good watch dogs because of their fierce growls.

Basenjis were brought into the United States in 1937, but ill fortune and distemper seemed to plague them and it was not until 1940 that they got a real start. With the present day perfected vaccines the Basenjis, as other breeds, have been able to survive the onslaught of the dreaded diseases of hepatitis, distemper and leptospirosis.

Mrs. Hurcoy is secretary-treasurer for the Quad-Cities All Breed Dog Club. For more information on the dogs she welcomes inquiries.

Prudential Observing 75th Anniversary Here

The Granite City district office of the Prudential Insurance Co., recently marked 75 years of operation in this area, according to William F. Curcuro Jr., manager of the office located in the Nameoki Village shopping center.

Originally, the office was known as the East St. Louis district and was located in that city. In October 1968, the headquarters were moved to Granite City, with a resulting change in name. The former East St. Louis office was retained as a branch office with another office in Cahokia.

Curcuro started as an agent in East St. Louis in January 1958, and became manager of the district in Sept. 1965. Assisting him in the business office are six staff managers, 41 agents and 10 on the administrative staff, including those in the two branch offices.

Illinois Counties Are Unable to Operate As Effectively as Urban Counties of Many of the States

(Public Administration Service)

Fiscal limitations imposed upon local government by the Constitution are detailed and severe.

Article IX, Section 8, limits county taxing power to seven and one-half mills (75 cents per $100 assessed valuation) unless an excess rate is authorized by referendum. Municipalities, townships, school districts and special districts are not subject to this limitation.

Article IX, Section 9, allows the General Assembly to delegate taxing power to municipal corporations. Rate limitations are not specified, but taxes must be uniform as to person and property.

Article IX, Section 10, forbids payment of municipal debts by any means but property taxes, and it prohibits the diversion of the taxes by the legislature.

Article IX, Section 12, places a debt limit on counties, cities, townships, school districts and other municipal corporations—in amount, 5% of the value of taxable property as of the most recent assessment, and in term, 20 years.

The section further specifies that before a debt is incurred, the jurisdiction must provide for payment by "collection of a direct annual tax sufficient to pay the interest . . . as it falls due, and also to pay the principal" within the 20-year limit.

By judicial interpretation, this section has been restricted to general obligation bonds and does not affect revenue bonds or other types of securities which are paid from pledged income sources rather than general taxes.

Article IX, Section 4, limits the procedure by which property is sold to satisfy unpaid taxes.

Article VII, Section 3, prohibits appropriation of public funds to aid or support any organization or institutions.

A separate, unnumbered section forbids counties, cities, townships and "other municipalities" to donate or credit to or invest in the capital stock of railroads and other private corporations.

No rule of law does prevent mischievous local government, and nothing is more to blame for the proliferation of special government, both in form and in number, than the Revenue Article of the Constitution.

Its limitations have no relation to the circumstances of modern government.

Individually, they restrict the responsiveness of government, and collectively, they inhibit the modernization which local government to badly needs.

Movements to modernize local government in other states, for example, stress the importance of the urban county.

Its chief value is its scope and flexibility: it is a strong form of county government; it furnishes a wide variety of services; county and municipal where they are needed; it fills the many gaps between municipalities by providing direct local government in unincorporated areas; and it helps the many small communities which cannot obtain services from the urban center and cannot afford to provide their own.

Many of its functions are countywide; some are not. Differences are reflected in the differential tax rates by which the taxpayer pays only for services actually received.

An Illinois county cannot operate like that. The constitution invalidates differential taxation, so, in fairness to the taxpayer, county services must be county-wide or nonexistent.

From the standpoint of services, the modern urban county is much like a large municipality, and it has a corresponding financial burden.

The tax rate of an Illinois county, however, is so limited (75 cents per $100 assessed valuation) that it could not attempt urban services on a scale of any great significance.

Few municipalities could survive such a limitation in the state today, there are 50 municipalities over 25,000 population, in 28 of them the tax rate is above that level, and in eight of those it exceeds $1.

In urban centers, 10 of the 13 principal municipalities have tax rates higher than 75 cents and in five of the 13, rates are $1.10, $1.20 and more.

Yet, the property tax accounts for barely half of municipal income; the other half comes from sales and excise taxes, fees, intergovernmental grants and the like sources which are far less productive to the county.

The debt limitation of the Revenue Article is less significant for the suppression of debt than for the devices contrived to avoid the limit.

The oldest and still most widely used is the revenue bond. It makes possible such local necessities as water and sewage systems, other public utilities, public housing, urban renewal and redevelopment, hospitals, highways and bridges, and a host of other services without which a modern community could not function.

Revenue bonds and similar types of debt are exempt from the debt limitation by judicial decree because they are paid from user fees and other special charges and are not general obligations of the community.

The debt limitation has spawned such devices as the "junkie" laws, called, by which government can take possession of costly facilities, complete and ready to use, for a greater investment than a long-term lease.

The lease is arranged in advance and is used by private interests for construction. Ownership is private, but the government unit for which the work is done controls all details.

Rental payments are a current operating expense, not a public debt.

Not all public services produce user fees or special taxes. Local government can convert what otherwise is a general obligation into a revenue bonding opportunity by creating a semi-autonomous public agency to handle the financing.

The parent government controls the agency but is not charged with the debt. The agency, in turn, holds a guarantee in the AAA credit risk.

The debt and the agency's expenses are paid entirely from the revenues derived from the parent government.

The technique was carried to some sort of ultimate by a southern state several years ago when it created a special public authority to build a new state prison, the entire operation based upon a leasing arrangement.

Illinois courts have not been overly strict in enforcing the debt limitation. The artifices and contrivances used to avoid it are judicially approved, and the exemptions have interpolated a few counties with little local government a little more financial freedom—the tax participation warrants, for example.

The courts decree that it is not an instrument of debt, but an exchange of funds; it appears that the lender has no recourse against the government which otherwise appears to operate like that.

The distribution of liabilities seems almost to make the tax collector an agent of the lender rather than an officer of government.

It is a curious kind of commercial paper, but it works, it is allowed, and it doesn't affect the local debt limit, prime requisites for financial flexibility.

Enthusiastic Response to Downtown Area Revitalization Can Assure Its Success

Downtown Granite City revitalization has been given massive forward impetus by the contagious enthusiasm which developed at a discussion of improvement proposals and implementing steps Tuesday evening.

The 90 businessmen, property owners and public officials gave high priority to prompt, decisive action. The voiced strong approval of the imaginative, soundly-based plan outlined by the Harland Bartholomew planning firm.

Already, a subcommittee is being formed to obtain financial commitments from tenants and landlords of the downtown district. Initial phases began with the discussion group call for creation of a semi-mall on 19th street from Cleveland blvd. to State street and then a mall on Niedringhaus avenue from Cleveland to Edison avenue. The program also includes long-range planning, involving additional major improvements in subsequent years.

Heart of the plan is separation of shoppers from those commuting to work. The Niedringhaus mall—eliminating motor vehicles—will dramatize the new role of the downtown area as a multi-store shopping center. Four-lane auto routes on the perimeter at 20th street, Madison avenue, 18th street and Cleveland-Benton street will further emphasize that it is an autonomous district encircled by adequate traffic arteries. Parking space will be materially expanded and there will be considerable attention to infusions of greenery and other visual enhancements.

Those who spoke and voted Tuesday wisely stressed that, while no plan is perfect, a well-thought-out plan can bring great dividends if vigorously carried out. There was a unanimous sentiment for avoiding long deliberations over minor details, a process blamed for past failure to refurbish the downtown district in a coordinated fashion.

Municipal officials participated in the planning in recent months and took an active part in this week's meeting, indicating a willingness to match positive action by merchants and land owners with constructive enabling legislation.

In summary, the "marching orders" decided upon were "Full speed ahead!"

Because it was not a headlong decision but one understood in all its ramifications, the downtown area businessmen appear to have an excellent chance of success in their mission to make the central district a truly new, exciting, enjoyable and rewarding area to shop.

Freeway Can Help Development Of Area Between Highway 111 and 157

With Corridor B receiving primary attention as the route of proposed Freeway 13 from Rock Island and the low-lying prospects for further expansion of the Quad-Cities seem bright. Although access to the road would be limited, it could provide impetus for development of the area paralleling and east of Illinois Route 111.

Corridor B connects East St. Louis and St. Louis with the area east of Alton, passing through the vicinity between Highways 111 and 157. Discussions at the public hearing this month indicated the precise route might follow the vicinity of Highway 111 northward to a point north of Route 270 near Mitchell and then go northeast, following Post road to Route 159 west of Edwardsville before proceeding north toward Bethalto.

It will be important for the Illinois Division of Highways to reach firm right-of-way decisions soon, since uncertainty involving the three wide corridors originally announced will discourage property investors. Once known, the new highway location can exert a positive attraction to commercial and other development.

Speaking of highways, the record $575-800,000 Illinois road program for 1970 engenders mixed emotions, what with the fund freeze still in effect in Madison and counties. Widening of Nankin road between Granite City and Mitchell seems certain to be carried out once the freeze is lifted.

Father Engelbert Retiring After 34 Years as Pastor of St. Mary's

Father Engelbert Bienek's 34 years of service as pastor of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church span nearly half of the 78-year history of Madison and over half of the 57-year history of St. Mary's parish. He will deserve the honors which will be accorded him on the occasion of his retirement this month.

Under the patronage of Our Lady of Czestochowa, the parish was founded largely by Madonians of Polish origin. Fr. Bienek himself was born in a part of Germany now in Poland.

During his tenure, St. Mary's built and occupied a unique domed, circular church. It also has new rectory and convent buildings and a remodeled elementary school. His assignment here began an affiliation with the Franciscan order and his successor, Fr. Sylvester Micek, also is a Franciscan.

Quad-Cityans wish Fr. Bienek a long and active period as pastor emeritus.

Tighten Up Handling of City Sick Leave

Sick leave abuse by municipal employees has been alleged by Granite City officials and given prominence at various times in the past several years. Because records bear out extensive use of sick leave by some in age groups normally relatively free of illness, it is high time that the municipality develop and enforce realistic controls.

"Moonlighters" who by ordinance are denied sick leave have been allowed to receive it. The rule waiver is a condition and the result could be payment by two parties to an individual for a single day's work. Worse, the worker would be unavailable on such days for the city job for which he was hired, severely limiting the staff if others were ill at the same time.

No one opposes reasonable allowance for bona fide sickness. Where that is widespread, belief that the purpose of such leave is being distorted, answers and remedies should be sought promptly.

Fever Blisters Can Prove Serious

(American Association for the Advancement of Science)

Fever blisters or cold sores on the lips and in the mouth are fairly common human afflictions.

The cause of these sores is a virus—called the herpes simplex virus—which is passed from one person to another. A more serious result of an otherwise merely uncomfortable cold sore is the possibility that the virus might spread into the brain along nerve pathways and cause encephalitis.

Dr. Robert A. Bennett, Jr., and Joseph L. Melnick of the Baylor University College of Medicine, Dallas, Texas, have shown that herpes virus can in fact invade the central nervous system by way of nerves that run between the brain and the mouth.

Most Income Tax Returns Accurate

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

Congratulations. As a group, Americans are probably the best informed taxpayers in the world.

More than 77 million Americans will file individual federal income tax returns for 1969. Most of them will compute their taxes themselves and they will do so with a high degree of accuracy.

In the Midwest Region of the Internal Revenue Department, only about 10% of the individual federal income tax returns for 1968 were found to have errors. In the IRS, the percentage of errors was found to be even lower.

Q. I received an additional share of stock as a dividend on some stock I own. Is this stock dividend taxable?

A. In general, if the share of stock you received as a dividend is the same class as the stock on which it was paid, the stock is not taxable. However, if there was an option to take cash or other property in lieu of the stock dividend, then the fair market value of the stock received should be reported as income.

Q. I have fully supported my grandmother for years but because she now needs constant attention she has moved to a rest home. Can I still claim her as a dependent?

A. Yes, as long as you continue to support her and she meets the other dependency tests you may claim her exemption even though she is no longer a member of the household.

Moreover, if she is in the rest home primarily because of the joint return in order to claim a refund of tax withheld.

Q. If your daughter files a separate return, you may claim a refund of tax withheld. However, if she is a dependent, you may claim a refund of tax withheld.

Q. I bought gifts for customers of my business. Can I claim a business expense deduction for these gifts?

63% of Record Levee Budget for Wages, Salaries, Fees

By HARRY BARNES

A total of $282,800, or 63% of a new all-time record budget of $1,323,275 filed by the East Side Levee and Sanitary District for the 1970 fiscal year is projected for expenditure as labor wages, salaries, consulting fees and contract labor costs, a breakdown study of the budget figures by the Press-Record revealed today.

Analysis of the appropriation bill, posted for public inspection last week, also shows that the district's budgeted payroll costs this year are $109,800 more than the $738,250 appropriated in the 1969 budget bill a year ago to cover last year's payroll expenditures in the same operating departments.

These figures do not include an additional $125,000 budget figure to be added to the $1,323,275 budget figure before the appropriation is finally adopted by the board of levee district trustees early in February. Provision for that addition, which will bring the overall 1970 budget figure to $1,448,275, was approved in last week's meeting of the levee board after the original version of the budget totaling $1,323,275 had been filed.

There has not yet been a breakdown of the $125,000 additional figure which will cover four projects proposed by William "Mike" Ebersoldt of Venice, Madison county member of the levee board, because he contends the projects are in critical need to prevent a repetition of flooding conditions that were caused by heavy rains last July. All of the four projects proposed by Ebersoldt are in Madison county which, Ebersoldt told the levee board, pays 45% of the overall district tax bill.

Budget at Record High
While the levee district budget total will reach the record high figure of $1,448,275 upon final adoption next month, the study of the district's financial status indicates the budget is little more than "wishful thinking" because the district is limited in its general fund tax rate to 20 cents per $100 assessed valuation. On the basis of last year's assessed valuation which is not expected to change to any great extent for the 1970 tax year, the district could collect not more than $1,100,000 on the basis of a 100% tax collection.

The district's assessed valuation last year was $350 million, including $300 million in St. Clair county and $50 million in Madison county. A tax rate of 20 cents per $100 assessed valuation against this total produces a tax extension of $1,100,000, but the average tax collection spread over the bi-county amounts to about 90% of the overall extension.

As a result, the maximum tax revenue for which the district could hope would be about $1 million, or almost $400,000 short of the budget figure.

The levee district's general fund budget is in addition to the budget requirement for retirement of outstanding bond principal and payment of interest on those bonds. This figure exceeds $1 million annually. Last year it amounted to $1,669,093. For 1970 it will be more than $1 million, although the figure is determined finally in the budget adopted in early February and therefore is not yet available. However, the bond budget will send the district's total budget to nearly $2.5 million.

Five Major Phases
In its original budget of $1,323,275 filed for public inspection last week, the levee district broke down its general fund budget into five major categories including project costs, administration costs, engineering costs, general maintenance and interest on bonds. The latter two minor appropriations, for the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund, D. auditing costs, and liability insurance costs.

The latter two items are new in their listing as separate items which therefore can be included separately in the tax levy. In prior years auditing costs and liability insurance costs have been included within the 20-cent tax rate. During 1970 they can be set up as separate tax levies.

Major wage and salary items, however, are included in the first five categories representing the funds which, in the past, have allowed the levee board to maintain one of the biggest political patronage organizations in southern Illinois. In the first division of its budget — Project Costs — the levee district appropriates "maintenance labor" costs of $429,250 for 20 separate "projects" each designated by a number specifying a certain area of the district.

Although budget figures show that in four of these projects the district was able to reduce labor costs by a total of $60,000, these reductions not only were wiped out but the overall total labor cost was increased by $41,000 over the $388,250 appropriated for the same projects during the 1969 fiscal year.

The levee district operates during a fiscal year of Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, same as the calendar year.

List Largest Increases

One of the biggest increases in labor costs is listed for Project 4 which is a section of the river levee from the Metcalfs bridge to Brooklyn, for which 1970 labor costs are budgeted at $200,000 compared to $200,000 last year, and an additional appropriation of $75,000 is set up for "contract labor" to clean out East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. tunnels that have been giving the levee district trouble for years, mainly because it never got around to the seriousness of the demands by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers that the levee weaknesses be corrected.

Another increase in labor cost is for Project 11—the Cahokia Diversion Channel—where the budget calls for $50,000 for maintenance labor during the year, a reduction from last year's budget of $65,000. But it includes a "contract labor" item of $20,000, which brings the total wage cost to $70,000. Project 11C, which is the Landsdowne ditch in East St. Louis and which includes operation of the North pumping station, has a new maintenance labor appropriation of $45,000 compared to $25,000 last year.

Labor cost reductions were effected in the budget for Project 8, down to $500,000 from $500,000; Project 12, down to $15,000 from $33,000; Project 14, down to $30,000 from $40,000, and Project 17, down to $50,000 from $70,000.

Salaries for administration purposes are budgeted in the new 1970 appropriation bill at $63,600, compared to $55,000 last year, plus an additional item in the new budget of $8,000 which calls for $15,000 for "professional services-legal fees." This is up $5,000 over last year's item of $10,000 for the same purposes, although attorney's salaries of $13,600 are included in the new budget in the regular labor listing, up from $7,000 in the 1969 budget.

Administration Costs Rise
The overall administration budget including all items of projected expenditure totals $181,919 for 1970, compared to $147,175 last year.

A total appropriation of $98,350 is set up in the new budget for engineering purposes, compared to $47,300 for this purpose in 1969. The engineering budget includes $57,000 in salaries, unchanged from last year, but also includes $15,000 for fees for consulting engineers, which is an increase from a $6,000 figure set up for this purpose in the 1969 budget.

For general maintenance purposes, the new budget totals $371,150, up $83,250 from last year's $287,900. Of the total, $170,000 is for salaries, the same as last year, but this year's budget includes an additional $25,000 for "contract labor" for which there was no similar appropriation in 1969.

Increase Police Salaries
The district's total budget for its police department for 1970 is $99,900, compared to $38,400 in 1969. The total includes $60, 000 for salaries this year, up $10,000 from the 1969 figure of $50,000.

These salary items would be increased materially by the proposed additional projects calling for another $125,000 in the budget, assuming it were possible for the work to be carried out. Under the district's limited tax rate, however, it is unlikely that many of the expenditures proposed in the original appropriation of $1,323,275 can be realized.

The additional projects proposed by Ebersoldt are: development of drainage facilities for the Doherty Slough area at an estimated cost of $40,000; installation of four 18-inch culverts into the Cahokia Diversion Channel between Highway 162 and the Horseshoe Lake at an estimated cost of $12,000; installation of two additional 36-inch culverts at the southwest end of Horseshoe Lake at an estimated cost of $10,000; and automation of the Horseshoe Lake control gates on the Cahokia Diversion Channel at an estimated cost of $63,000.

Since the projects were proposed after the district's original budget draft had been made, board members agreed to add the budget later to include the items proposed by Ebersoldt before the budget is given final approval. The levee board will call a public hearing on the budget early in February after the budget has been posted for public inspection for 30 days.

After it is adopted and published, the levee board then may approve the district's tax levy. This customarily is done in a special meeting late in February.

Gospel Sing Saturday To Aid Wetly Children

A group of Quad-Cityans is expected to join other residents from the two-state metropolitan area for a second "Gospel Sing" program to take place Saturday evening at a St. Louis church to benefit the 11 orphaned Wetly children.

Several outstanding area singing groups have volunteered to participate in the program which will start at 7 p.m. Saturday at the Gateway Temple Church, Lafayette and Mississippi streets, St. Louis.

As with the first gospel song fest, held at the Gateway Temple here, the public is invited to attend without charge. All proceeds donated in a free-will offering will be contributed to the Wetly Children's Fund at Granite City Trust & Savings Bank, according to Mrs. Arlene Tadlock of Granite City, a friend of the family.

Rer, C. L. Morrison, pastor of the St. Louis church and Wilson Martin, also of St. Louis, whose friendship with Truman Hafford of the Chaplains Quartet of Granite City sparked interest in the children by area church groups, are responsible for arranging the program.

Living With Grandmother

The 11 youngsters, ranging in age from 14 months to 18 years, came under the guardianship of their widowed grandmother, Mrs. Lottie Lynn, 42013 Fourth street, Madison, after their mother, Inez Wetly, died Oct. 18 of injuries sustained in a head-on auto crash. The two-car collision occurred on a county road near Perryville, Mo.

The children's father, Glen, had died 15 months earlier of lung cancer at the John Cochran Veterans Hospital, St. Louis, following a lengthy illness. He was a pensioned veteran of world war II.

Modest benefits to which the youngsters are entitled through their father's military service and disability pension have been delayed with various legal technicalities, including failure of the children's status to the legal guardianship of their grandmother. Such changes usually require a minimum waiting period of six months, it was explained.

Many individuals and organizations in the local community and elsewhere, hearing of the family's plight, responded quickly with clothing, Christmas gifts, food and household furnishings. The latter items especially were urgently needed to enable the 59-year-old widow accommodate 11 young children in her home.

Mrs. Tadlock, 2602 Cayuga street, and Mrs. Theresa Naylor, 2238 Missouri avenue, with other friends of Mrs. Lynn, helped to establish the Wetly Children's Fund at the local bank.

Contributions to the fund to date total $3468, with the total amount showing little change from mid-December, a trust officer said.

Choral Group

Choral groups which have agreed to perform at Saturday night's "Gospel Sing" event, include the Chaplains Quartet; Twin City Gospel Singers of Festus, Mo.; The Coleman Family of Cahokia and the Gospel Tones of St. Louis.

They are widely-known throughout the south central two-state region and offered to take part in the benefit on a voluntary basis.

Nine of the 11 youngsters are under 15 years of age, including five who are five years or less—a 14-month-old girl, Inez Faye, twin girls, Dawn and Diane, 2; Timothy, four and Sherrie Lynn, five.

Cash contributions for the children may be sent directly to Granite City Trust & Savings Bank, 1909 Edison avenue, marked for the Wetly Children.

Marked for the Wetly Children.

State's Attorney Seeks Stiffer Sentences

The office of Madison county State's Atty. R. W. Griffith will recommend much longer prison sentences for repeat criminals who have not been rehabilitated in the past, according to an annual report compiled this week.

The action is necessary to protect the people in the county by keeping criminals out of the county and under confinement, Griffith said.

After studying the county jail lists for a year, Griffith said that more than 50% of those in jail are repeaters.

The problems of the state's attorney's office arise originally from the fractionalization of the various law enforcement agencies, numbering 30, and some type of consolidation is needed, the report said.

"In the coming years we hope to make this point in the legislature as revolutionary as will result in not only cheaper law enforcement, but better and more professional law enforcement," according to the report.

Cite Cooperation
"We would like to emphasize that our relationships with all of the police departments have been excellent and we appreciate the cooperation that we have received from them. We hope that some type of central record system is acquired soon."

The report pointed to inconsistent bail procedures and the office wants to meet with judges to seek a schedule which will permit some uniformity consistent with the needs of the defendant and the crime charged.

National statistics on police apprehension stand about 25% on crimes, and should this increase, "we will be adding another tremendous load on the courts," Griffith said.

Supervised Pica
One of the means to reduce the burden is the use of the "judicially supervised pica," the pre-trial level, he added.

The procedure would take place in the courtroom with the defendant, his attorney and the state's attorney representative, with the presentation of their showing the nature and extent of his crime and any previous criminal behavior.

The purpose of the procedure would be to determine a proper sentence for the crime committed. It would eliminate the necessity of legal proceedings prior to trial, the trial itself, post-trial proceedings, probation reports and the uncertainty in the mind of the defendant concerning his sentence, "who is hoping that after a time circumstances will change or that he will 'bluck out' on a sentence," the report said.

"Our primary emphasis will be in the felony prosecutions, and especially with repeated offenders. We believe strongly that a criminal prosecution should be intended to deter as well as to rehabilitate."

Burglary Business
Griffith said the burglary business would collapse if the "good" citizen of the county would cease buying stolen merchandise. He said the buyers are subject to a felony prosecution but that the courts will not prosecute anyone involved who will provide information leading to the arrest and prosecution of a "fence."

Regarding prostitution, the report said zoning laws would be used to close the establishments, but zoning laws of the various cities first must be studied and changed where needed. The office intends to close during the year the known places where prostitution has flourished for years, Griffith added.

The report recommended that persons placed on probation be required to take a lie detector test every six months concerning their activities, and if the defendant refuses or there is a finding on untruth, his probation should be revoked. This has already been tried in Illinois.

Assess Larger Fines
Because of the large cost in administering the legal process, the office will recommend to judges that each defendant found guilty be assessed a larger fine and that a fine be included with a jail or penitentiary sentence.

Griffith said his administration had estimated that about 40 felony jury trials would result last year, but after several months, it was found the contrary was true as continuances were asked when cases came up for trial because of illness, last-minute change of attorneys and other reasons.

Out of 22 cases tried, the jury returned a not guilty verdict in only four. Pleas of guilty began to rise as follows—January, six; February, 10; March, 10; April 29; and May 21.

A total of 197 indictments were returned during the year, with burglary being the most frequent offense. There were 272 cases closed in 1969, with 123 pending. Of 40 cases closed from 1968 and before, about 50% of the defendants are fugitives from justice. There have been 135 pleas of guilty. There are 124 new cases since Sept. 1.

More than 700 misdemeanor cases are handled by county courts each month, with 200 involving traffic violations, according to the report. About 300 are set for jury trial each month, with the remaining 400 disposed of on non-jury settings.

About 200 juvenile cases are set for jury trial each month, with the remaining 400 disposed of on non-jury settings. About 200 juvenile cases are set for jury trial each month, with the remaining 400 disposed of on non-jury settings.

Recreation could become a crop more valuable to land owners and consumers than corn. A golf course or lake could be a money maker better than a field of wheat. Conservation is concerned not with nature alone, but with the world around him. We need to raise the quality of life and give it a new dimension.

As we living up to our obligation as tenants of this Great America of ours, this land of breathtaking vistas, when 70% of us occupy 1% of the available space? When are we losing the equivalent of 400,000 acres of good land each year from erosion and other forms of soil deterioration? When we pay a bill of $57.5 million a year for sediment damage in upstream areas?

Health, soil, and healthy people go hand in hand. We have never been paying enough attention to our soils and environment, and we're going to pay a heavy price for wasting and polluting them. We are all aware that the areas in size, population, wealth and complexity and also in its out-

The new juvenile detention home opened Sept. 8 and an assistant state's attorney was assigned to the home on a full-time basis. From Jan. 1 to Sept. 8, 122 new juvenile cases were filed, with another 123 cases requiring 230 hearings.

From Oct. 1 to Dec. 18, 21 juvenile cases have been committed a crime. Two were sentenced to the Illinois Youth Commission, two were placed on probation, and 17 were placed on probation.

Petitions, Appeals
The report said the office currently is flooded with petitions and appeals, not only from defendants convicted during the past year, but also from defendants who have been in the penitentiary and are filing writs of habeas corpus determined by the U. S. Supreme Court.

"We have been very fortunate in keeping confined practically all those criminals who have been brought to trial and found guilty," Griffith said.

In the family division, the office handled 136 reciprocal support cases, 71 neglect and abuse cases, 33 paternity cases and 708 mental hearings at Alton State Hospital.

In other activities the office cleared tax objection cases from 1940 to 1960, with $102,818 distributed to taxing bodies. The office handled delinquent personal property suits which provided $79,179.

The state's attorney's staff also provided legal services and advice for the various elements of county government. The office of public consultant was formed in which an attorney is available at all times to confer with individuals on their complaints or problems and to channel the problems to its appropriate place for treatment.

Induction to Prevent Taking Faculty Post

Vincent Debeve, 1914a Grand avenue, who had planned to accept a physical education teaching position at Central junior high school, will be unable to do so because he is to be inducted into the Army in January or February.

The development was noted Monday night by the Granite City school board, which named Michael Harmon, Wood River, an SIU graduate, to the Central physical education post.

Also hired were Mrs. Patricia Johnson, Brentwood, Mo., Northern Illinois U. bachelor degree, as a Granite City high school English teacher, and Mrs. Cheryl S. Pond, Rural Route Two, SIU bachelor degree, as an instructor at Proharrill grade school.

Caterina workers hired Monday night were Mrs. Edith Feltenmeyer, 4801 Warnock avenue, Mrs. Evelyn Bringer, 2610 Grand ave., Mrs. Elizabeth D. Adams, 4546 Highway 162, Mrs. Dolores C. Sanders, 2624 East 28th street, and Mrs. Rose M. Schmidt, 2229 Grand avenue.

The board authorized the administration to arrange a meeting sought by three representatives of the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council. The group has asked to discuss the discharge of a school custodian in the spring of 1969.

Also approved were negotiations with SIU, Carbondale, on placement of university students in Granite City schools as practice teachers.

Mrs. Gary (Janice) Mueller, St. Louis, a teacher of middle intermediate students at Maryville grade school, resigned effective Jan. 30. Her husband is being transferred to Los Angeles.

GC Kiwanis Host Divisional Meet For 12 Clubs

"Kiwanis In Action" was the subject informally discussed by 75 representatives of 12 area Kiwanis Clubs at the Winter Conference Divisional meeting Monday night at the Rose Bowl.

Melvin Gille, member of the local club and Kiwanis II governor-elect for 1970-71, presided over the meeting, hosted by the Granite City club.

Dan Jones of Taylorville, district representative of the District Governor, spoke on the current activities of several clubs leading a discussion and review of projects and programs now in progress by area organizations.

The foremost program of all Kiwanis Clubs is the Operation Drug Alert, which will continue with intensity throughout this year. Other work is to be done with senior citizen clubs, the youth of the community, along with assisting needy families at Christmas. The Granite City Club also makes a special effort to work with school nurses in purchasing eye glasses for the next students as well as articles of clothing needed by the young-sters.

Funds for these projects are derived from garage sale, selling of fruit cakes, candies, peanuts and the annual boat races co-sponsored by the Granite City club and the Bowline Boat Club.

Word was received by the local club that the president, Ed Moore, is in Puerto Rico and has been confined to bed with an attack of the flu. He is expected to return for the next Monday's meeting.
